General Comments:

Santana was a great addition to Northridge Elementary School during her practicum experience. She developed appropriate lessons and met the needs of each student individually. She showed professionalism and it was clear that the students made a connection with her.

Santana observed many meetings which included: support staff meetings, PLC meetings, and problem-solving meetings. This will help her as she becomes a special education teacher.

Santana has grown since her practicum started in February. She developed great relationships with the students that she worked with and it appeared that she is a natural. Santana got to observe many duties and responsibilities as a special education teacher, such as: interventions available, student data, student behaviors, support staff training, communication, and working with families.

Overall, I enjoyed having Santana at Northridge Elementary School. She is eager to learn and take direction. Santana is ready to apply her experience and her knowledge during her next adventure of student teaching.
